ON THE AGENDA

You are invited to attend or give a lecture, lead a workshop, facilitate a discussion circle or organize an activity on a variety of topics, including:

Democratic education

How does democratic education address many of the challenges faced by traditional education today, and what is their connection to children's rights?

Student Agency and Autonomy

What are the potential benefits and challenges of allowing students to participate in school governance and curriculum development?

Equity, diversity & inclusion

How do democratic schools meet diverse student needs and create inclusive environments that embrace equity and neurodiversity?

Education Policy & Reform

What are the biggest obstacles to meaningful educational reform, and how can they be overcome?

Philosophy

What should be the ultimate goal of education? Is it to prepare students for the workforce, to develop well-rounded citizens, or to foster a lifelong love of learning?

Curriculum & Pedagogy

Is an imposed curriculum still necessary? Or should we use the innate curiosity of children to achieve relevant and meaningful learning? Does standardized testing still have any value?

Student Well-being & Mental Health

How do democratic schools address the growing mental health crisis among students?

Future of Education

How do democratic schools prepare students for jobs that do not yet exist?
